Biography

Over the last 20+ years I have worked across a whole range of program output for international broadcasters and a host of independent TV companies. My first love is documentary Sound Recording and I have also worked on many dramas and for corporate production companies and their international clients.

In 2003 I won an RTS Award for Sound Recording on BBC2's 'Fighting The War' documentary series where I was embedded with the Black Watch (7th Armoured) during the invasion of Iraq. My Credits CV is at my official website: <http://whitford.net>
